Can the Blind See?

Can the eyesight be preserved? Can imperfect vision be restored? Can the aged enjoy reading as the young? Can science assist you? These are important questions. Remember that eyesight is priceless and that sight once lost can never be restored. Persons will buy a pair of cheap, imperfect spectacles, thinking it economy, not knowing that they are doing themselves irreparable injury until it is too late. The popular opinion that the use of glasses should be postponed as long as possible is erroneous. As soon as you find your sight failing go at once to a specialist and have your eyes tested and glasses properly fitted. An invitation is extended to those who have never been able to find glasses to suit them, and to all in need of proper lenses to visit our new Optical Department.

AROUND THE WORLD

The "Yankee Tourist" Arrived in Town Last Night.

HE IS TACKLING RAILROAD TIES

And at the Present Rate He Will Achieve the Title of "Globe-Trotter" a Generation or Two Hence—Walked Over the R. & O. Tracks From Washington—He Expects to Reach San Francisco Next Summer—Talks with an Intelligencer Reporter.

An intelligent, sun-bronzed, dust-stained traveler walked into the Intelligencer office last night, being none other than Frank S. Colburn, the "Yankee Tourist." Mr. Colburn is a native of the sea-beaten coast of Maine, but has started from New York on a trip around the world to-day. He left New York on September 18, and yesterday morning left Steubenville for the "Nail City," reaching here shortly before midnight.

The "Yankee Tourist" does not lay claims to beating the time of Phineas Fogg, Jules Verne's hero, but is contented with traversing the globe in the modest time of 200 days, ultimately turning up in Paris in 1900, when the World's Fair will be opened in that city. By his stops in all the large towns on his way, and announcing his object of being at the great exposition on French soil in 1900, he claims that the exposition is getting a boom, and while he does not expect the president of France to reward him with the cross of the Legion of Honor, he will not refuse it if proffered. In Paris, however, the globe trotter expects to make considerable money selling the story of his novel trip.

This pedestrian is without money, and solicits none except for work performed. He has been a news-gatherer for several years, and contributes sketches to newspapers as a means of subsistence. He is the possessor of varied talents, being a song writer, having set words to an air of H. W. Petrie, the author of "You Can't Play in My Back Yard," and is a phenologist, which, coupled with talks descriptive of his travels, makes him quite an entertainer.

From Wheeling he will cross to the Buckeye state, stopping for some time in Columbus and Cleveland. When the springtime zephyrs are beginning to move, he will bid America a temporary good bye, going from San Francisco to Japan. The "Yankee Tourist" does not fear that the cannibals of the Pacific islands will evince a desire to sample him. He has no fear of Indian jungles and their tigers, nor of any of the wild things that he, and confidently expects to meet on his "eight side up" way "round" in the gay and wicked capital of La Belle France.

Last night he expressed a wish for the company of a sketch artist, whose pencil sketches would add flavor to the book of his travels. He intends writing nothing of note or interest in hamlet or city escapes his eye, and his good appreciation of humor will make his book readable and enjoyable wherever the English language is spoken. The "Yankee Tourist" is an entertaining talker and his experiences are well worth hearing. He stands the test of walking well, but like Coxy, sighs for better roads. His reason given for his strange scheme is partly to rebuild a weakened constitution, and in seeing the world gain knowledge of the customs and devices of this queer world. He is determined to complete his four-year's task and if given good health will leave Wheeling to-day. Here's success to you, "Yankee Tourist."

Deeds Recorded, Marriage Licenses Issued and Other Transactions.

The only business in Clerk Hook's office yesterday was the qualification of Baltzer Klitz as executor of the last will and testament of Gottlieb Schach, deceased, giving bond in the sum of $100. No security required by the terms of the will.

Wheeling Man Injured.

Solter Eaton, a young man about sixteen years of age, whose home is on the Island, met with an accident at Newbury, Ohio, yesterday by which he will lose one of his feet. He learned telegraphy with A. L. Walling, Pennsylvania Company, ticket agent at Bridgeport, and some months ago was given an office on the main line of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh division. Thursday, in stepping off a moving freight train, he missed his footing and fell with his foot under the wheels. He was brought home yesterday.

Both were Wounded.

An accident which might have resulted more seriously, happened last Tuesday evening at the home of Miss C. M. Henderson was making a call and had taken from his pocket a revolver, with which Miss Morris was playing, when suddenly it went off and the ball passed through the young lady's hand and Mr. Henderson's foot. Although the wounds are painful no serious developments are anticipated.

In the Justice Shop.

Before Squire Arkle, Sarah J. Grimes, and Philip Grimes were each fined $1 and costs for using profane language.

BEAUTIFUL, unique, up to date and many similar expressions of admiration were heard last evening as crowds of people gathered about to see the display in J. H. Kirk's show windows, at 1005 Main street. They are truly creations of beauty. The originality of design and artistic effect is simply marvelous.

By the way, Mr. Kirk is doing some of the best photographic work ever seen in Wheeling. If you anticipate having any "picture work" done, it will pay you to talk the matter over with him.

We are pleased to learn through people who are in a position to know, that the new ground floor photographic studio in the state, owned and operated by Mr. Kirk, at his Art Store, No. 1005 Main street.

Don't fail to see display in his show windows.

AMUSEMENTS.

"A Night in New York," a clever farced absurdity, headed by Jolly Nellie McHenry, comes to the Opera House next Friday, November 6. Nellie McHenry is well-known to most theatrical circles as being one of the brightest comedienne starting in farce comedy. This time she comes with a new play, specially written for her with a view to what people like. The skit is by H. Gratton Dannelly and was written in the author's happiest vein, showing New York life as you see it at the French ball. It abounds in sparkling music, pretty dances and rich repartee, and goes with a laugh from start to finish. The company is spoken of highly and is composed of the best talent in the profession, including John Webster, Charles Morrison, Charles Eastwood, Joe Sparks, J. T. Hayes, Miss Henrietta Lee, Miss Fanny Brooks, Miss Viola Raymore, La Petite Rosa and others. The advance sale begins next Wednesday at C. A. House's music store.

It is seldom that such satisfactory comedians and singers are gathered together to produce operatic comedy as the ones engaged in the production of the Denton's charming operatic comedy "Dorcas." The patrons of the Opera House will find much pleasure in listening to the charming music and witnessing the generally excellent dramatic work of this company of "all stars." Among the best known of the company are Mr. William Broderick, the basso, and Miss Eva Dayenport, contralto. Mr. Charles O. Bassett, tenor, Miss Marie Millard, soprano, Mr. Fred Frear, comedian, Miss Drew Donaldson, soprano, Mr. Arthur Sexton, baritone, Miss Minnie Jane, soprano, Mr. Charles W. Myers, comedian, Miss Marie Dayenport, ingenue, and supported by other well known artists. From such a company as this nothing can be expected but a brilliant performance, and with the opportunities furnished by the authors "Dorcas," such a company must be well worth seeing. It will be seen at the Opera House Tuesday, November 3. The election returns will also be given between acts.

Another large audience greeted the "South Before the War" at the Grand Opera House last night, and the favorable impression that it has always been created by Mr. Martelli's company was repeated with emphasis. The melodrama and ballads were without doubt better rendered by this organization than by any other ever visiting the city. The three challenge quartettes are the finest ever heard here with a similar attraction, and render some excellent vocal music. The specialties are good and in keeping with the rest of the performance. A matinee will be given to-day, and the engagement will close to-night.

Fitz & Webster will appear at the Grand three nights, commencing next Monday evening. This is the first appearance of "A Breezy Time" company in this city at popular prices, and by special arrangement with the manager of the Grand the company will give a special midnight performance on Tuesday, November 3, at 11:30 p. m., and the latest election returns will be received by special wire and read from the stage during both the evening and midnight performances. Wherever the company has appeared since the press and public have been unanimous in pronouncing its performance good.

LEAP YEAR ASSEMBLY

Hall Given Last Night by Wheeling Young Ladies.

The first of three assembly dances given by a number of Wheeling's prominent society young ladies was given at Egerton hall last night. The affair was appropriate to leap year and the gentlemen present were the recipients of the hospitality of their lady hostesses to a great degree. The Opera House orchestra rendered a pleasing programme of the popular dances, and at midnight a tempting luncheon was served by the ladies' caterers. Those present from out of town were: Sam Hazlett, Washington, Pa.; Edgar Stewart, Martinsburg; and Misses Collins, Quincy, Ill.; Emma Wheat, St. Louis, Mo.; Carrie Russell, Charlesburg; Mrs. Hammond, Cadiz, O. The committee in charge were Misses Whitaker, Moffat, Sue Caldwell and Baird.

The New Way.

Some of the best physicians who have had their eyes examined and investigated Professor Sheff's new scientific method of examining the eyes and fitting glasses without use of drugs and making the patient blind for a week, or having them look at charts, etc., or in any way depend upon the patient, is wonderful and the only absolute correct way for examining the eyes for glasses. Professor Sheff can be consulted and will examine the eyes free at 1130 Main street.

Some People's Folly.

Why some persons will suffer with the excruciating pangs of rheumatism, when they can be so easily cured by that greatest of pain-cures, Salvation Oil, is past human comprehension. That Salvation Oil does cure rheumatism is evidenced by Mr. G. P. Schradet, Pierce, Neb., who says: "I have used Salvation Oil and think there is no liniment on earth like it. I had the rheumatism for several months and could get no relief until I used Salvation Oil, two bottles of which effected a cure, and I feel as well as ever. No home should be without it." Salvation Oil is sold everywhere for 25 cents. When dealers offer a substitute beware, you'll be victimized. Insist on having the best, Salvation Oil.
